

Another Good Deer Hunting Season Expected

Rifle deer hunters are expected to enjoy as much success in the field as bow hunters have this fall.

Gary Boushelle, at the DNR regional office in Roscommon, says the number of deer in Crawford County is the same or moderately higher than last year.

"We're expecting an excellent hunting season state-wide because there are a lot of deer out there and hunting interest is high," said Boushelle.

The number of deer being brought into DNR check stations by bow hunters is heavier than last year, he said.

"Whether that means more deer are being harvested or not is something we're going to study closely. With the second deer permit available, some people feel hunters are bringing deer into stations this year that they couldn't legally bring in last year," he said.

"It's something we're going to have to watch."

Boushelle said the acorn crop in Crawford County is moderate but spotty.

"Hunters should search out the good acorn areas," he suggested. "And they should also have alternate hunting spots to go to if they are hunting public land. We are anticipating heavy hunting pressure on some public land."

This is the first year residents and non-residents can obtain two firearm and two archery deer hunting licenses in the lower peninsula. The second license can only be used to take an antlered buck.

Penalties for game law violations were increased this year. The maximum penalty for illegal killing, possession, purchase, or sale of deer is $1,000 in fines, 5 to 90 days in jail, and three years' revocation of hunting license. In addition, a person may have court costs and may have to reimburse the State for the value of the deer. Firearms, motor vehicles, and other equipment used in the violation may be seized and may be subject to condemnation. To Report All Poaching (RAP), Telephone 1 (800) 292-7800.

A new law prohibits individuals from hunting after they have taken their deer. During the firearm deer hunting season, it is unlawful for a deer hunter to possess afield a centerfire rifle, shotgun with buckshot, slug, ball or cut load, a muzzleloading rifle, or bow and arrow, unless that hunter possesses a valid kill tag in his or her own name. Second buck licenses are $9.75 for resident archers and firearm hunters, $5 for resident junior archers, $75.25 for non-resident archers, and $100.25 for non-resident firearm hunters.

Last year was a record year. More deer were taken in 1985 than in the history of Michigan deer hunting. The final firearm harvest was 144,560 antlered bucks and 42,280 antlerless deer. In addition, the preliminary archery harvest was 39,500 deer, and the preliminary muzzleloading harvest was 3,500 deer.

The DNR wants to remind hunters to be conscious of safety. Last year hunting accidents during deer hunting season numbered 37, including six fatalities. Careless handling of firearms and violation of basic safety rules should not be tolerated by others in the hunting party. Hunters should wear plenty of blaze orange and be absolutely sure of their target before firing.

Larceny Suspect Caught By DNR

A DNR Conservation Officer stopped a suspicious vehicle on Big Creek Lodge Road and the driver allegedly told the officer he committed a breaking and entering of a house just minutes ago. Sheriff deputies were called and the Saginaw man confessed to them. The house broken into was located three miles south of Lovells and owned by Livonia residents. Police recovered property worth about $2,000. The suspect was stopped Sunday and his name is being withheld pending District Court arraignment.

Winter Driving Accidents Begin

A total of 11 cars were involved in accidents in the northern part of the county Sunday evening. Sheriff deputies said winter driving conditions on snow and ice contributed to the accidents. No one was reported seriously injured in the accidents that occurred around the 269 mile mark on northbound I-75. The first accident, reported at 5:23 p.m., involved a couple of cars with three more going in the ditch. The last accident was reported at 7:30 p.m. Deputies said the northern part of the county received a little more snow than the rest of the county and the road surface became glazed. They warn all motorists to slow down during snow or ice conditions.

ORANGE COAT ROUND-UP — The bucks will start appearing on the Buck Pole around 7:30 to 8 a.m. this Saturday. A rifle and prizes amounting to $2,150 will be given away.

Orange Coat Round-Up

Buck Pole Prizes Increase To $2,150

The amount of prizes given away at the Orange Coat Round-up has increased again this year.

A scoped deer rifle and $2,150 in cash and saving bonds will be given away to as many as 50 hunters this weekend. The Orange Coat Round-up, sponsored by Skip's Sport Shop and the Grayling Chamber of Commerce, will start Opening Day Saturday and will end Sunday at dark.

The buck pole, which had 38 deer on it last year, is located at Skip's along West M-72.

Each day, $50 saving bonds will be given away for the first ten bucks brought into the Buck Pole. Fifty dollar saving bonds will also be given each day to the youngest successful hunter, first woman hunter to bring a buck in, the hunter bagging the heaviest buck, the oldest successful hunter, and the hunter bringing in the first buck. After $50 saving bonds are given for the first ten bucks brought in, the next 15 bucks brought in each day will win $15 cash for each hunter.

With at least $100 in saving bonds guaranteed the first hunter to bring in a buck, it doesn't take long for bucks to appear at the Buck Pole. Last year, Teresa Barber, of Howell, brought the first buck in at 8:01 a.m. on Opening Day. The second day, Lloyd Crawford, of Grayling, brought the first buck in at 8:10 a.m.

Gail Madsen, of Skip's, says she expects the first buck to be brought in between 7:30 a.m. and 8 a.m. this year.

"With all the success the bow hunters are having, it looks like there could be an excellent opening day for rifle season," she said. "There seems to be a lot of deer out there this year."

Ray Perez, DNR biologist at the Grayling field office, sees an average year for rifle hunters.

"You won't see as many yearly bucks because of winter die-offs last year," he said. "And fawn production was down a bit this spring."

"There are still some pretty good-sized bucks out there," said Perez, but he pointed out that an above-average turnout of bow hunters this fall has reduced the number of deer available for rifle hunters.

"This is probably the most bow hunters I have ever seen and with the two permits they've upped their kill quite a bit. We've had a lot more deer checked into stations and a lot of antlerless deer are being taken on the first permit."

Perez said hunting in the west part of the county will generally be better than the east side where winter losses were more severe.

In addition to the prizes given each day at the Buck Pole, a scoped deer rifle will be given for the hunter bringing in the buck with the largest rack.

Local hunters winning last year were Crawford, Linda Stephan, Jim Failing, Tony Latusek, Dale Boerema, Nancy Niederer, Roger Lawrence, Kim Belcher, Bill Rutter, Jr., John Stampfly, John Gay, John Gay, Jr., and Fred Shippy.

Registration for the Buck Pole is simply purchasing a $2 Orange Coat Round-up Button prior to bagging your buck. They are available at Skip's, the Chamber office, and other businesses.

Thompson Named Editor of Avalanche Newspaper

Following the retirement of Howard "Whitey" Madsen from his full-time position of Editor-Publisher of the Crawford County Avalanche, several changes have been made at the weekly newspaper.

Madsen has agreed to stay on as publisher of the paper on a part-time basis.

Jon Thompson, a writer and photographer for the Avalanche the last five years, has been named Editor of the paper. Thompson, a native of Grayling, was graduated from Grayling High School in 1975 and was graduated cum laude from Alma College in 1980 with a bachelor's degree in journalism and environmental science.

In addition to writing for the Avalanche, he has also published articles and photographs in the Detroit News, the Lansing State Journal, the Saginaw News, and the Bay City Times. He has also sold articles and photographs to the Michigan Natural Resources Magazine, Michigan Out-of-Doors, the Detroit Free Press Magazine, Learning Magazine, and Writer's Digest.

LeRoy Papendick, a native of Grayling who has been employed with the Avalanche 34 years, will be in charge of ad composition, ad production, commercial printing, and plant operation.

The new line-up was announced by Richard Milliman, the president of the Crawford County Avalanche.

In the 10th District Congressional race, the southern two-thirds of Crawford County helped the overall winner Bill Schutte by a 1530-1030 margin over Don Albosta.

In the 11th District, the northern third of the county gave overall winner Bob Davis 428 votes to 204 for Robert Anderson. Independent Phil Bellfy received 13 votes.

In the 103rd state representative race, winner Ralph Ostling received 1,979 votes to 1,156 for Ellen Addington.

For Board of Regents at U of M, Paul Brown (D) led with 1,300 votes and Cynthia Haidostian-Hudgins (R) was second with

BUY...BUY...BIRDIE — Whitey doesn't have to worry about a "turkey" anymore and he has generously donated two of these birds to the United Way Auction to be held Saturday, November 22nd, at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Grayling. One of the two turkeys will be a frozen bird from a local store. The other turkey, this picture, will be thrown in with the frozen turkey to give the lucky bidder two birds in the hand. GPA Plans 'Celebration of Lights' To Start Holidays

Santa Claus will arrive at the Courthouse on Friday evening, November 28, to greet the boys and girls in Grayling. At the same time the white lights will go on all over town.

The Grayling Promotional Association's Celebration of Lights will begin the holiday season for the community when at six o'clock all lights on businesses, homes, and the golf course are scheduled to be turned on. Santa Claus will be on hand at the Courthouse for a couple of hours that evening, starting at 6 p.m., to talk to the children. There will be singing and goodies.

Also scheduled for the last week in November is the Christmas promotion entitled "Come Home to Grayling for Christmas." The 'Red Bow' merchants will be taking part in the promotion so watch for the red bows on the stores. The committee, chairmanned by Shannon McNamara, are hoping to have you shop Grayling and to make it worthwhile to do so. The promotion will last about four weeks right up to the Christmas holiday.

Another of the Grayling Promotional Association's projects will be the Winter Carnival Buttons. Chairman Diane Baxter, assisted by Karen Kammer and Elaine Riley, are working in conjunction with Lynn Thompson, art teacher at the high school, whose classes will compete for a prize for the design of the buttons.

Judging of the designs will be held on November 22 and the buttons should be going on sale about December 9. The sale of the buttons is to help fund the winter carnival which is scheduled to be held February 6, 7, and 8, 1987.

The GPA will furnish an extra special tray of Christmas cookies for the United Way auction so if you're tired of baking those fancy cookies, here is your chance to get all of them at once.

Guest speaker at the GPA meeting on October 28 was Ernie Dawson on behalf of the Community Self Improvement Project (C.S.I.P.). The group is responsible for the new flags on Michigan Avenue that are promoting Grayling businesses.

Some of their goals are to have new wreath decorations downtown along with the white lights. They have purchased the Marge Walker property on the business loop in order to make an attractive parking area. A big Christmas tree will be put in the vacant lot belonging to Emil Kraus on Michigan Avenue and will be lighted by the GPA.

The CSIP's plans are to make "all roads lead to Grayling" in order to attract people here for shopping.

They are working on grants to help develop the area, making the community more attractive with new facades, streetscapes, and more availability for pedestrians and shopping.

trians and shopping.

They are hoping to make Grayling a showcase for Northern Michigan. The purpose is to build on Grayling's heritage of progress and the Grayling State Bank has agreed to underwrite the costs of some of their promotions, such as the "Fact Book" that is soon to be out.

Further Steps Taken To Solve City Curbside Garbage Problems

The City of Grayling is warning city residents that appropriate legal action will be taken against persons refusing to comply with garbage pick-up rules. The biggest problem facing the city is garbage placed at curbside at the wrong times. Refuse should be placed at curbside no earlier than Sunday evening and no later than 8 a.m. Monday. Leaves and trimmings should be placed in bags. Brush and tree limbs should be cut to manageable lengths and placed at curbside separate from the trash.

Infractions of garbage pick-up rules will be handled by city police and the city attorney.

Write Down County Ambulance Phone Numbers Before Emergencies Hit

Crawford County Ambulance Corps members are urging county residents to write down phone numbers for ambulance service before emergencies strike. The numbers should be placed in a prominent position near the phone. Easy access to ambulance phone numbers can save valuable time in an emergency.

The telephone number for the Crawford County Ambulance Corps, the county-operated ambulance service, is 348-6341 (the same number as the Crawford County Sheriff Dept.) The Crawford County Ambulance Corps provides the entire county with emergency ambulance service. In Frederic and Maple Forest townships, the county corps mainly are a back-up for the Frederic Ambulance Corps. The number for Frederic and Maple Forest residents to call for the Frederic Ambulance Corps is 348-9191.

United Way Auction Offers Entertainment and Bargains

Live entertainment and fantastic deals await you at the 2nd annual Crawford County United Way Auction scheduled for Saturday, November 22, at the K of C Hall in Grayling. Doors will open at 6 p.m. and there is a $5.00 admission charge, with all proceeds going to the 1986 United Way campaign drive.

The auction will begin at 7 p.m. and a cash bar and snacks will be available at the K of C Hall. Food will also be provided by the local Knights. Last year, the United Way Auction raised $7,000 for the agencies funded in Crawford County. This year organizers hope to beat that figure and raise even more money.

With only a couple weeks left in the Crawford County United Way campaign, the drive has netted about 32 percent of its $35,000 goal.

Donations and pledges totaled nearly $29,000 in the campaign to fund human services agencies in the county during 1985. Campaign volunteers hope to raise more money during this year's fund raising effort.

Local merchants have donated many items to be auctioned off as their contribution to the Crawford County United Way. Other businesses in town are busy collecting funds from their employees, and encouraging them to sign up for payroll deduction plans, an easy way to contribute to United Way.

The Yard Birds lawn clean-up crews are also still available to clean yards, rake leaves, etc. The Yard Birds are a group of young people from the area who are volunteering their efforts in support of United Way. All proceeds paid to the Yard Birds are donated to Crawford County United Way.

If you would like a Yard Bird to help with your fall clean-up efforts, contact Shelley Hubbard at 348-2841, extension 264. If you would like to assist in the campaign effort, contact David Sabin at 348-5588. To contribute money, call Sabin or United Way President John Cherven at 348-2554.

Applications Available For 1987 Miss Grayling Pageant Contestants

There are only two more weeks to pick up your application to be a participant in the Miss Grayling pageant.

Fred Wimbledon tried to break the news to his wife gently.

"Sit down please," Fred motioned to his wife. "Honey, everything I'm going to tell you is true. I wouldn't lie about something this serious."

"What is it Fred? You look so shaken!"

"Wilma, it finally happened. I found out that some married friends of ours have a clean house even though they have three children. Three children and a clean house!" Fred exclaimed.

"Oh Fred, quit joking. They probably have a maid."

"No, they don't. I asked them. As soon as I saw their clean house, I asked them if the kids were away for the weekend."

"But can you believe this," Fred continued, "the kids were home the entire weekend and the house wasn't messed up!"

"Are you sure they don't have some type of cleaning service?" Wilma asked.

"I'm positive. I made them swear on a bible that was neatly arranged on a dust-free coffee table."

"Oh goodness," Wilma said as her face turned serious. "If this is true, do you know what this could mean? If they have children and a clean house, that proves it is possible. I just always thought it was impossible to have a clean house with children around."

Then Wilma's face lit up.

"Oh Fred, this is exciting! This means we can once again live in a clean house and we don't have to wait ten more years until all the children are in college."

She jumped up and grabbed Fred.

"Tell me how they do it. Please, tell me how they do it," she pleaded with him.

"I can't honey. They're selling the secrets to a book publisher and to television."

"How long before the book comes out?"

"Could be a year or more. They're trying to get Mr. Belvedere to ghost-write it."

"A year?" Wilma was distraught.

"What about television?"

"They want to put it on the air right away."

"Thank God. Who's going to be doing the country this great service? An educational program on public television?" asked Wilma.

"No. There are two shows bidding for the rights," Fred told her. "Ripley's Believe It Or Not and Amazing Stories."

Dear Editor:

While attending Parent-Teacher Conferences this week I found that next year the 5th graders will be in the Middle School. I was told that the 5th grade rooms will be self-contained on the 2nd floor. They will not be changing rooms and teachers like the 6th, 7th and 8th graders. When I asked about recess I was told that there is no recess in the plan, that recess will be replaced with enrichment time and that enrichment time will not be like inside recess.

In a time when we are all lamenting the fact that our children are growing up too fast I am finding it very hard to accept the fact that next year I will be sending my 9 year old to the Middle School and that she will not have the opportunity during the day to get outside and play.

I feel that having the 5th grade in the Frederic Elementary has been excellent. Over the last few years I have worked there as a volunteer, a teacher's aide, and I have a daughter there in the 5th grade this year, so I have had plenty of opportunity to see it working. I have seen the 5th graders enjoying their play outside, and I have seen how they are when the weather keeps them inside for a few days.

Mr. Reynolds told me that there are many schools in the state that use this system, so I have asked him to furnish me with the name of one that has used this grouping for a time so that I can check with them to see how it has worked for their 5th grade students. I was told that I could probably get this information but it wouldn't really matter because this is how it is going to be here.

I guess at this time I would just like to be sure that all parents are aware of this situation. Maybe I will find that they all approve, but if there are others like myself who are not pleased, we should make our objections known now. Please call the school or me and let's see if there isn't some way we can keep the 5th graders in the Elementary School.

Sincerely,
Teresa Furst

Hopes Candidate Keeps Promises

To The Editor:

Thank you for this opportunity to make my concession statement. I would like to first congratulate my District Four opponent upon his re-election. To win in two of three townships, in light of a doubling of property taxes in less than ten years in office, is a notable political feat. To survive this astronomical tax-hiking during a time of declining inflation rates has to be historically unprecedented.

As you know, a challenging candidate has a duty to see that the incumbent keeps his campaign promises. His promise to act, "to alleviate the burden of the taxpayers in Crawford County..." will not be forgotten. His word to lower taxes may yet make all of us winners, I hope he keeps it. I didn't make a campaign commitment to lessen taxes, but if I had you could take it to the bank.

I'm sorry that I didn't get to meet all of the rural homeowners in District Four, because I know how difficult it is to vote for someone that you do not know. As a taxpayer who can't write off his property taxes as a business expense, I know and share your problems firsthand. I hope to meet with you in the near future.

Truly yours,
Joseph Callewaert
Candidate, County
Commissioner District Four

Corporate Withdrawal Cuts Potential State Divestment

Warren M. Hoyt, Exec. Dir., MPA

Recent corporate decisions to withdraw their assets from South Africa, highlighted by recent announcements by General Motors, IBM and Honeywell, have cut in half the amount the state would have to divest under administration backed bills, state Treasurer Robert Bowman said.

The GM and IBM decisions alone mean the state pension funds could hold on to approximately $1 billion in investments, Bowman said, as the total amount that now would have to be divested has fallen from approximately $3.2 billion to $1.6 billion.

The corporate pullout announcements should make the legislation easier to pass in the Senate, where it has been awaiting action since the House passed the two measures last spring, Rep. Virgil Smith (D-Detroit), sponsor of HB 4770, said.

But Sen. Harry DeMaso (R-Battle Creek), chairman of the Economic Development, Trade and Tourism Committee, which considered the bills, said there was a chance the Senate would not even act on the measures when it returns following the November elections.

The GM and IBM decisions to sell their South African operations would constitute a withdrawal from that country as defined under the bills, even though the two companies would continue to sell products and parts in South Africa through intermediaries, both Bowman and Smith said.

The two bills would require that a company sell its assets in South Africa, or the state pension funds would have to divest its holdings in that company because of the country's racist apartheid system.

In some local governments across the country, discussions are now underway on whether GM and IBM's departures really are withdrawals from South Africa as their products would continue to be sold there.

Under the definitions developed by some governments, GM and IBM stock would still have to be divested because they would still allow their products in the country.

"Ours is not that strict," Smith said. "I was happy to see the pull out. They will send parts, but they will not have access to capital in South Africa. I'm for measured pain, and I think South Africa is undergoing measured pain, and I hope its enough to convince them that we can't sanction what goes on there."

Bowman said a stricter definition of withdrawal would be unfair to the companies. "Why should we penalize the producing plants because they sell to someone who then turns around and sells to South Africa," he said.

Along with GM and IBM, other companies in which pension funds are invested which have announced their intention to withdraw include General Electric, General Telephone and Electronics, and Motorola.

"It's nothing surprising," Bowman said. He said he had always anticipated that the amount the state would have to divest would decline as businesses left the troubled African nation.

Businesses see holding assets in South Africa as a financial risk, Bowman said.

Pressure on corporations to withdraw, as the U.S. government imposed sanctions, western European nations imposed sanctions, and other states, including California, have announced plans to divest, has grown, he said.

And with GM and IBM pulling out, "the monkey is on the other guy's back," Bowman said. "Before, it was why are you pulling out. Now it will be why are you staying in. The focus will be on every company which is still active there." Smith said the GM and IBM withdrawals, and the amount of money they will free from the state requirement to divest, should make the two bills easier to pass in the Senate. "I'm certainly going to leap on it" and push the Senate to act, he said.

After GM and IBM, the largest holdings the state has in any corporation owning assets in South Africa is in Ford Motor Company.

The state has $180 million in holdings in that company, which owns 40 percent of a facility in South Africa. The state also has $198 million in holdings in Citibank, $130 million in Chase Manhattan, and $11 million in Mobil Oil.

Among other large Michigan companies holding assets in South Africa, the state has $35 million invested in Federal-Mogul.

Why the champagne shampoo?

by Richard Millman

TIME ONCE MORE for one of our infrequent strolls, barefoot among the potpourri...

WITH THE 1986 World Series fresh in mind, I have often been puzzled by the antics of the winning players after the final games of a championship.

Why do the players fizz out the champagne, and pour it over each other's heads, and the heads of any other innocent bystanders who may drop by...such as owners or reporters or bat boys?

It seems an awfully juvenile thing to do, and a waste of good champagne as well. Isn't there some other way to indicate jubilation? It mystifies me.

OF COURSE, I've never been on a World Series championship team before, either.

And one last comment about the series... Wasn't it a really dreadful affair, at least from the viewpoint of the baseball purist? It seems the winner was the team which made the least mistakes — and that goes for the playoffs, too. It wasn't so much a case of which team won as it was of which team lost...sort of the survival of the least bad.

Sort of reminded me of politics.

AND SPEAKING of politics... One of my all-time favorite quotes came from former senator, confirmed individualist and rabid baseball fan Eugene McCarthy, a few years back. Asked to compare baseball and politics, he said they were pretty much alike in some ways.

"You have to be smart enough to understand it, and dumb enough to think it's important," said McCarthy.

IN POLITICS, there are different ways to interpret what people say. For example, down in the Battle Creek area during the late unlamented 1986 campaign, State Rep. Richard Fitzpatrick was running for the state senate. Fitzpatrick said he wouldn't use television spots in his campaign.

"I can't imagine being able to say anything meaningful in 30 seconds," said Fitzpatrick, who used to be in the advertising business before politics called.

"I trust the voters will make a more intelligent choice than one based on who is on TV and who is not."

My interpretation of what Fitzpatrick really said: He just didn't have enough money for TV spots.

BUT POLITICS doesn't stand alone in saying one thing and perhaps meaning another. It happens in business, too.

For example, at our house we received two identical announcements from one of the local banking institutions announcing a new "interest rate hotline" which would permit us to invest our savings at the best possible rate — through this particular bank, of course.

"We want each Manufacturers Bank ManuFund and SuperNow account holder to be notified of this important information," the bank said in one of its announcements, "therefore, your household may receive more than one copy of this notice." We did.

My interpretation: What the bank really meant was, "Our computers got all screwed up on our mailing lists."

And so it goes. What we say is not necessarily what you hear.

SYNDICATED COLUMNIST L.M. Boyd recently had the following note:

"Girls get better grades than boys, generally, all through school. But men get better jobs than women, generally, thereafter. If it's discrimination against the female, why does it only begin after graduation? Why doesn't it begin in the first grade with the first report card? If it's not discrimination, what is it?"

Some very legitimate questions. Why indeed?

Could it be that grades through school generally are decided by women, while jobs in the marketplace generally are decided by men?

And if this is true, could it be that boys may be the object of gender discrimination in the handing out of grades in school, just as women may be the object of gender discrimination once they are out in the job marketplace? Just asking.

This is one area where there are no easy answers.

A Look Back At Our Past

23 Years Ago
November 14, 1963

Mr. and Mrs. Don Ferguson and son went to Harrison Saturday morning for the weekend to visit their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bennett and daughter Nancy of Flint were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Kumpula.

Don Legg and Larry Baynam returned Sunday after pheasant hunting near Aberdeen, South Dakota, bringing back their limit of 48 birds.

The Robert Strong's visited their son Bob and family in Mt. Clemens over the weekend. The Bob Luter family came over from Garden City to join them all on Saturday.

Joan Papendick was out bow hunting Sunday, the 3rd, and managed to bag a nice spikehorn buck.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lovely and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ward Sr. have received word that their children, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ward Jr., are the proud parents of a baby girl, born at Beaufort, South Carolina, November 11. Charles' sister, Miss Bonnie Ward, is spending some time at Beaufort with her brother and sister-in-law.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Larson entertained fourteen members of their family with a dessert party celebrating their son Ronnie's 28th birthday, November 11th. They have word from their son A2C Jerry Larson that he will be home from Lincoln AFB, Nebraska, Friday for a few days' hunting.

Barring a bad break from the weather, buck kill should be comparable with last year. Department game men look for hunters to take 17,000 bucks in the upper peninsula and 36,500 in the northern lower peninsula. A harvest of about 4,000 antlered whitetails is forecast in the southern lower peninsula.

About thirty eight ladies attended the stork shower Tuesday night for Mrs. Steve Jorgenson of Grayling. A group of Grayling ladies was among them. The hall was very prettily decorated. Games were played and a lunch of Jello, cake and coffee served by the hostesses Mrs. Bill Johnson, Mrs. Mitchell Thompson and Mrs. Carl Olson. Linda received some lovely and useful gifts.

Gary Lucksted, Grayling's hard driving half-back was named to the Northern Class C All Conference football team. Lucksted, a senior is 17 years old, 5 ft. 9 inches tall and weighs 165 pounds. He was noted as one of the hardest running backs in the entire conference. He won Honorable Mention on the All State Class C team last year. Eddie Robertson of Grayling was named as a second team tackle and Jack Harney at a third team guard post.

Bits of Talk by Fay Bovee

There are three more places in my own neighborhood that were repainted this summer and fall that I didn't even mention. The Derek McKivers' home on Chestnut Street also has changed from white to a gray or blue and looks very nice. The old Danebod Hall, now the Baptist Church had a crew there that repainted and it was a great improvement. Mr. Haydet on Maple Street repainted and had trees taken down in the yard. His place is always well kept, too. Down on the business loop as I stood near the Chamber of Commerce building watching the painter on the roof of the old Alfred Hanson building, I realized what an attractive looking place that is starting to be, a soft peach color with green trim.

One of Crawford-AuSable's bus drivers was given a special treat on the occasion of his 62nd birthday. Cliff Porter's day started when his 85-5 bus students surprised him with a serenade and upon his arrival at the Grayling Elementary school the cooks gave him a birthday party.

Don and Dorothy Sorenson and her mother, Mrs. Beatrice Smith, traveled west for three weeks to visit their daughter, Marie Howe and 10-month-old, Ian at Sequim, Washington. Her

Mental Health Notes

Respecting Personal Dignity

It is easy to lose track of the essential dignity of a human being when that person's mind seems to be gone, when someone else must meet all his personal needs, or when his behavior is disruptive or degrading.

With this type of patient, scrap books, pictures or tape recorded family histories, can be helpful. These allow the patient to reminisce, give the family something to talk about with the patient and make it easier for aides to relate to the individual as a special person.

Respecting personal dignity can also mean recognizing that seemingly aimless or destructive behaviors may have some meaning or purpose for the patient. One can help the patient substitute a safe behavior for a dangerous or destructive one. For example, running an "errand" or taking a walk can replace unsupervised "escapes" and still have meaning for the patient.

A useful rule of thumb is to ask one's self whether a specific behavior is harmful, whom it harms, and who needs it to be changed. For example, if a patient refuses to take necessary medications or wanders into a street he is at risk of harm to himself. If he is driving a car or smoking carelessly, he is at risk of harming others.

Patients who pace, scream, or dump out drawers are not endangering themselves or others. But other residents may urgently need this behavior to stop. Paranoid patients may seriously upset family or staff. It is often necessary to intervene when a behavior places the patient or others in danger. However, when a behavior is disturbing but not dangerous, it may be possible to alter the environment so that the patient's right to the activity can be preserved without disturbing others.

Finally, families and professional staff together may need to weigh the risk involved in some patient activities against denying a patient any autonomy. For example, a family may decide to allow a patient to wander, despite the risk of a fall or accident, rather than to keep confined in a geriatric chair. If and when such decisions are made, they must be discussed openly between family and staff, and must be acceptable to both.

WE MAKE SANDWICHES TO ORDER

I am teaching Culinary in Gaylord again this semester and I came across some interesting facts I would like to share with you.

Darlin', are you familiar with Fettuccine al Alfredo? It is the American name for Fettuccine alla Panna. It is named after Alfredo, a dashing Roman restaurateur who tossed his noodles with a gold fork and spoon given him by Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks. This particular dish, by the way, is made with heavy cream and not just with butter and Parmesan cheese alone as some of the restaurants will have you believe.

There was also a confusion between ascorbic acid and citric acid. Here are my findings: "Ascorbic acid is an unsaturated aliphatic acid derived from sugars and occurring naturally in citrus fruits and some vegetables. Generally known as vitamin C, it is an important factor in a balanced diet...it protects against various types of infections, including the common cold. In addition to its metabolic value, it is used as a food additive, where it acts as an antioxidant and inhibitor of discoloration of peeled vegetables and also as a stabilizer of dough...it oxidizes readily, thus losing its protective value; it also deteriorates on exposure to heat.

"Citric acid is an organic acid. It is formed in nature by a complex series of en-zymic reactions known as the Krebs cycle; in plant and animal metabolism, it catalyzes the oxidation of tissue structures and thus is an important factor in respiration.* In solid form it is a water-soluble crystalline hydrate. Citric acid occurs in many fruits and vegetables, especially lemons, oranges, tomatoes, and limes. It is obtained commercially by fermentation of best and sugarcane molasses."

Herbally yours,
E. Diona Cerelli, C.H.
An overdose of this could be some of the respiratory problems allergy sufferers may have when they come in contact with this acid in restaurants.

8th Grade Grayling Girls Win Four-Team Tournament

By Karen Febey

The 8th grade Viking girls basketball team won their game on Monday 22-19.

Heather Stephenson and Nicki Morrill led the team with 8 points each. Candy Grigsby, Claudine Allen, and Nicole Meagher had made 2 points each.

Coach Carrie Mayes commented that "The pressure was on for Roscommon to win this game since they won the other two games by one point each. Once we got ahead, we put even more pressure on."

On Thursday they won the Championship game against Houghton Lake, 32-30.

Candy Grigsby scored the winning basket and had 8 points. Heather Stephenson also had 8 points, Nicki Morrill 6, Andrea Flowers 4, Missy Gorman 3, Claudine Allen 2, and Nichole Meagher 2.

Carrie Mayes said, "This was a great way to finish. The girls didn't fall apart when 3 starters were fouled out and the scoring was spread out more than it had ever been. This was definitely the best team effort of the season."

I Bet You Didn't Know

Brought To You By John Scheer

One of football's great legends concerns George Gipp, who played his last season for Notre Dame in 1920. Here are the details of that legend...Gipp became ill during his senior year and was on his death bed...Coach Knute Rockne came to visit, and Gipp gave Rockne the basis for the most famous pep talk in football history...Gipp reportedly said, "I've got to go now, Rock. It's all right. But sometimes Rock, when the team's up against it, when things are wrong and the breaks are beating the boys, tell them to go in there with all they've got-and win one for the Gipper"...Rockne waited till half-time of the Notre Dame-Army game of 1928...He used Gipp's last words as his pep talk...Needless to say, Notre Dame won that day.

Can you name the only major college football bowl game that's been played in THREE different cities?...It's the Liberty Bowl, first played in Philadelphia, then in Atlantic City, N.J., and now in Memphis, Tenn.

Who's the oldest man ever to play in the National Football League?...The record is held by quarterback and place-kicker George Blondo who was 48 years old when he played for Oakland in 1975.

I bet you didn't know...That 1987 Chevette has had a drastic price reduction. This car has been lowered by over $800.00 for 1987. The Chevette has more standard features in 1987. Please come and test drive a Chevette today.

NOTICE TO GENERAL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF MICHIGAN CUSTOMERS

NOTICE OF OPPORTUNITY TO SUBMIT COMMENTS

On October 7, 1986, General Telephone Company of Michigan (General) filed an application with the Michigan Public Service Commission (MPSC) for authority to detariff the installation and maintenance of simple and complex inside wire.

The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) on January 30, 1986, in its Second Report and Order in CC Docket 79-105, directed the detariffing of the installation of simple inside wire and the maintenance of both simple and complex inside wire by or before January 1, 1987. The FCC further directed all local exchange carriers (LECs) to relinquish ownership of all inside wiring once full capital recovery is reached.

General's current Tariff MPSC No. 1 reflects a premise repair charge for single-line (simple) station wire of $.50 per central office line, per month or a time and material option, if the customer desires. The premise repair charge for multi-line (complex) cable is on a time and materials basis only.

General represents that it will continue to provide these services of installing and maintaining simple and complex wire at approximately these same rates but on a detariffed basis.

General proposes to continue to amortize its Embedded Station Connection-Inside Wiring in accordance with the MPSC's Order in Case No. U-7025 until September 30, 1991; at that date, the investment in this Account 232 will be fully amortized and General will relinquish ownership to its customers. General proposes, however, that at the effective detariffing date of January 1, 1987 customers may assume ownership for practical purposes to take advantage of competitive options for the installation and maintenance of simple and complex inside wire from General and/or other vendors and contractors.

The matter has been docketed by the MPSC as Case No. U-8595, and you may comment on this by sending a letter to the MPSC expressing your concerns and ideas. A member of the MPSC Staff will then contact you to discuss the various alternatives available to you to pursue this matter. Send your comments to the Michigan Public Service Commission at 6545 Mercantile Way, Lansing, Michigan 48910, and reference Case No. U-8595 — General Telephone Company. Your comments must be received by the MPSC before November 28, 1986.

Michael A. Furstenau, son of Edward J. and Donna J. Furstenau of 136 Seminole, Roscommon, has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force upon graduation from Officer Training School at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

He is a 1983 graduate of Central Michigan University in Mount Pleasant.

Veterinarians Warn About Fall Poisons

The Michigan Veterinary Medical Association wishes to remind animal owners of two common fall poisonings.

Horses are susceptible to the toxic effects of the dried leaves and bark of Red Maple (Acer rubrum). When eaten, these cause the red blood cells to break apart or otherwise become unable to carry oxygen. The horse may actually suffocate unless it receives treatment. Horse owners are advised to rake and remove the fresh leaves from the pasture before they dry.

Dogs and cats (as well as children) are very susceptible to the toxic effects of antifreeze (ethylene glycol). When ingested, this sweet-tasting liquid interferes with kidney function and frequently results in death. When changing antifreeze, properly dispose of any that is unused as well as the old. Clean up spills since even small amounts may be harmful.

Eating Right Brings Good Health in Later Years

During the last 20 years, research has revealed a link between nutrition and good health. Many chronic diseases, including high blood pressure, heart disease, cancer, osteoporosis and diabetes, have been linked to types of foods that people habitually eat.

Recent research suggests a relationship between high salt consumption and high blood pressure; low calcium consumption and osteoporosis; high fat, low fiber diets and certain cancers; and high blood cholesterol and heart disease. Eating the proper foods, however, can help lower your risk of these chronic health problems.

Eating right is particularly important for older Americans. As people age, they may need fewer calories, but their need for essential nutrients remains the same. In fact, it becomes even more important to select the right foods to maintain a healthy diet as you grow older.

In a recent study, many older Americans indicated that, while they were aware of the importance of nutrition, they were not sure what constituted nutritious, well-balanced meals. This confusion often results from conflicting information from family members, friends and the media.

The key to eating right is variety. No one food supplies all the vitamins, minerals, proteins and carbohydrates you need for a healthy life. You should select foods each day from each of the major food groups and choose different foods within those groups, too.

The major food groups include fruits; vegetables; cereals and other foods made from grains, such as breads; milk and dairy products, such as cheese and yogurt; and meats, fish, poultry, eggs and dry beans and peas.

Fruits and vegetables are good sources of vitamin A, vitamin C, folic acid, fiber and many minerals.

Whole-grain and enriched breads, cereals and other grain products provide B vitamins, iron, protein, calories and fiber. Fiber helps prevent constipation and promotes healthy digestive tracts. It may also help reduce your risk of cancers of the colon and rectum, according to recent evidence.

Meats, poultry, fish and eggs supply protein, fat, iron and other minerals, as well as several B vitamins.

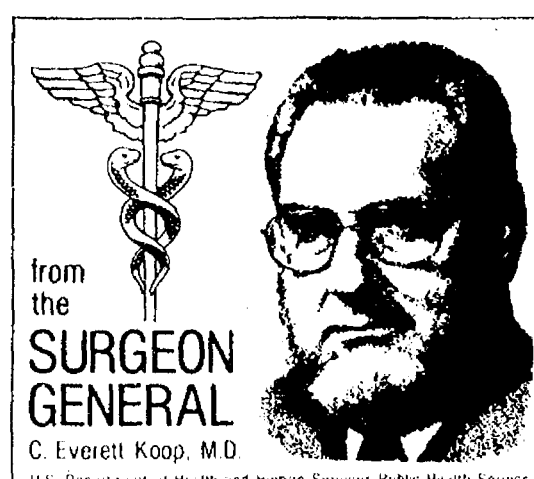

Dairy products are major sources of calcium and many other nutrients. Recent research suggests that calcium may play a role in preventing osteoporosis.

Making selections from this variety of healthy foods can provide you with the variety of essential nutrients you need—without unnecessary calories. You should adjust the number and size of your portions to reach and maintain your desired weight.

Older people who eat a varied diet will not generally need vitamin and mineral supplements. There are no known advantages and some potential harm in consuming excessive amounts of any nutrient. Some medications, however, may interact with nutrients, and a doctor may prescribe supplements in such instances.

Another important part of healthy eating is cutting down on fats, sugar and sodium. Think about ways that you can eat less of them. More and more evidence indicates that eating less fat may lower your risk of colon, breast, prostate and skin cancers and may also reduce your risk of heart attacks and strokes.

Another reason to reduce your consumption of fats, as well as of sweets and alcohol, is to keep your weight down. These foods are all high in calories, but low in nutrients. If losing weight is important to you, eat more of a variety of foods like fruits, vegetables and whole grain breads and cereals. And increase your physical activity. Eating right—and regular exercise—is the best prescription for keeping your weight where you want it.

You may not even have to make big changes in your diet in order to eat healthier. If you plan to change your diet to a healthier one, follow these simple steps.

First, take stock of the foods you eat in a given week. Go over your list to see if you're eating a variety of healthy foods. If not, start to add the ones you're missing and reduce your intake of the ones that aren't as healthy.

Today's investor needs to realize that earning 6.5 percent when inflation is 2 percent is not a bad return. There is no riskless way to increase your investment rate of return. With interest rates expected to rise in the next two years, the sensible strategy is to invest in variable rate investments or 6 month to one-year term investments.

PUMPKIN HUNT — The Grayling Co-operative Nursery celebrated the fall season with a Pumpkin Hunt at the school and a wagon ride courtesy of Camp AuSable. Sixty-six children participated in the Pumpkin Hunt, where each child had to find a pumpkin with his/her name on it. For several years Camp AuSable has hosted a wagon ride throughout the camp which includes seeing the animals, the barn, the swinging bridge, the treehouse, and the lovely nature center. Camp AuSable is owned and operated by Michigan Conference of Seventh Day Adventist. Its primary mission is being a youth camp. The camp operates year-round, and 9,000 people use the camp each year.

Correction

The Grayling State Bank Veterans Day advertisement that was published in the November 6th issue of the Avalanche inadvertently contained two lines of type that should have been left out of the advertisement. The Avalanche apologizes for any confusion this may have caused.

CHURCH DIRECTORY

In a forest of giant Sequoias one tiny sapling struggles for life. Little trees cannot survive where the sun does not penetrate.

Nor can little souls flourish if big souls do not allow God's light to reach them.

In the replanting of the Faith every generation has a sacred mission to transmit its spiritual heritage to the next. In homes and churches of our community that mission is right now being fulfilled.

Whether you're a youngster or adult, a parent or grandparent, you have your own special part in God's replanting of the Faith. And no one can take your part!

New Tax Bill

The new tax bill will dramatically change our federal income tax system. Some people are very worried about losing deductions, because they believe that each $1 tax deduction cuts their tax bill by $1. Actually, a $1 tax deduction reduces the income on which you pay taxes, but how much that deduction saves you depends upon your tax bracket.

Miss Grayling Says People in Pageant Make Event Memorable

The following is a letter to potential Miss Grayling Pageant contestants from Miss Grayling 1986:

All good times must come to an end, but as Miss Grayling 1986, I will never regret the time spent participating in such an honored event. To begin with, the activities preceding the pageant made the entire experience worthwhile. As a participant, a person must give themselves to the other contestants, and be able to cooperate and to be content with what you, personally, are trying to accomplish.

I will always remember the many, many evenings spent with girls who, even though they were in my class, I had barely known before. I learned so much from them, about myself, and how to really like people. The friendliness and the desire to achieve a common goal developed a sense of togetherness I yearn for now. Nothing can replace my experience as a contestant in the pageant.

After being crowned Miss Grayling, I discovered there are many more things to be proud of in Grayling than just what people see on the outside. While participating in the many events during the summer as Miss Grayling, I found how willing the people of Grayling are to learn and accept a person as they are; how willing they are to build the pride that everyone in Grayling should have, and should show.

This feeling of acceptance and personal fulfillment are one of the main reasons why

I participated in the Miss Grayling pageant. It is a privilege to be asked to represent a community with so much potential and the willingness to make Grayling an even better place to live.

For those of you who are undecided about going out for the pageant, I am here to plead with you, beg you, to experience that sensational feeling of belonging. It is an honor to be able to represent your community and an opportunity that should not be missed. Also, the people you will meet in the pageant, those who organize, plan, and care for you during the month before the pageant, are such a comfort. They are there for you - at your beck and call. They want to make the pageant a success - for you! You are number one for the entire duration of your participation in the pageant. Please don't pass this up. Be yourself - find the courage within yourself to reach out and get everything you can from such a fabulous experience.

To those of you who have decided to experience the pageant, I wish you the best of luck, and a happy heart. For those of you who have decided against participating...I wish you would reconsider. Think about all the fun you will miss. Everyone is special. To compete for something of this nature just takes luck, and hard work. Take a chance - explore the forbidden territory of risk - have confidence, and smile!

Deer Accidents On Rise In Crawford County

Department of Natural Resources (DNR) officials are warning motorists to watch out for deer as they travel throughout the state, especially during November.

Reports indicate the most car-deer accidents of any month occur in November in Michigan with a total of 6,379 such accidents reported in November of 1985. Locally, the Crawford County Sheriff Dept. reports deer-car accidents are unusually high this fall.

In 1985, Crawford County reported 196 car-deer accidents.

Five persons were fatally injured in car-deer mishaps during 1985, and 1,255 people were injured. Kent County reported the most car-deer accidents last year with 967.

State Police Traffic Services Division suggests using caution particularly during the first few hours before sunrise and after sunset. Consider slowing speed, especially when approaching a deer crossing sign, watch for shiny eyes ahead, and be prepared to stop. Tooting the horn may help. Deer often move in numbers, so travelers should watch out for the "trailers."

And buckle your seat belt. If you hit a deer, it's yours, but you should call the State Police, county sheriff, or DNR conservation officer to report the accident, and try to get both the vehicle and deer off to the side of the road.

School Volunteers Honored Nov. 12

The National School Volunteer Program, Inc., is joining the Crawford AuSable Schools in celebrating School Volunteer Day, November 12.

Around the nation, more than four million volunteers currently provide supplemental services that greatly enrich the education of children in 12,000 school districts.

Volunteers aid students in many ways. Some work as tutors for individual children or small groups of children who are having difficulty with such subjects as mathematics or reading.

Others bring outside expertise to the classroom, telling about their careers or lecturing on special topics such as science and art. Still others work in school libraries, offices, lunchrooms, and playgrounds, to help school staff create safe and effective learning environments.

One of the highlights of this special day will be a national television program saluting school volunteers and school systems around the country. Anyone who can receive The Learning Channel either by cable or satellite should plan to watch this 30-minute program on the evening of November 12th.

We in our local Crawford AuSable School Volunteer Program join with the administrators, teachers, school board members, staff and students to offer our volunteers congratulations on this special day.
